

International Law Section / Inter-American Legal Affairs Committee Presents a Luncheon Program

Project Financing Vehicles in Latin America: the offer of the institutions

Several institutions offer different vehicles to finance projects of different nature in Latin America and the Caribbean. Some of those institutions are multilateral, others are bilateral, or majority-private, and some finance all kinds of projects, whereas others only finance certain types of projects. Institutions such as the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Private Sector Department of the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB), the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC), Corporación Interamericana para el Financiamiento de la Infraestructura, S.A. (CIFI) and the Export Import Bank (Ex-Im Bank) of the United States will explain what and how they can provide medium to long-term finance for projects in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Roberto Vellutini, Head of Operations - Energy and Industries, Private Sector Department, IADB

Eduardo Wallentin, Manager of the Strategy Unit of the Latin American and Caribbean Department, IFC
